DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the application filed 31 December 2003, in which claims 1-32 were presented for examination.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-19, 29, and 30, drawn to a method and system for providing information comprising obtaining position data, storing the position data in a persistent database and selective retrieval upon request to provide the stored information, classified in class 701, subclass 208.
 - II. Claims 20-25 and 31, drawn to a method and system for providing information comprising obtaining position data related to a plurality of positions and partitioning the position data into a plurality of clusters of related positions, classified in class 340, subclass 995.14.
 - III. Claims 26-28 and 32, drawn to a method and system for providing information comprising obtaining position data, deriving an individual map for each of a plurality of obtained positions, and animating movement of the mobile object by combining a plurality of individual maps, classified in class 340, subclass 995.17.
3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I, Group II and Group III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, the subcombination of Group I does not require the particulars of the Groups II and III as claimed because the method and system of providing information does not require partitioning the information into a plurality of clusters of related positions nor animating the stored information. The subcombination has separate utility such as storing the obtained position information as a listed FIFO tracking log of position measurements. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required

because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Thomas Langer (Reg. No. 27,264) on 02 January 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
